

I want to continue receiving Voom's HDTV programming. Voom has the best and the most HD content of any current competitor. It is the best satellite HDTV service available with a reasonable price. This is the only satellite HD service built from the ground up to service as much HD content as possible. And now we may take several steps backward? I hope not..